OVERVIEW

This clearance shoe is a closeout style, and is therefore limited to the sizes and widths that are currently available online.

In authoring the Declaration of Independence, Thomas Jefferson, meshed some of history's great philosophical beliefs with his own groundbreaking ideas to create one of the most significant written documents in history. Following Jefferson's lead, we decided to take our classic brogue design and update it with some new elements to create a shoe for the most important moments of your career. Reminiscent of our Timeless Classic McAllister, the perforations and toe medallion on this six-eyelet wing tip balmoral truly sparkle on this model thanks to the supple finish of the premium double-aged burnished calfskin. The artistic nature of this timeless style is expertly offset by the stalwart profile of the artisan bi-color heel and wheeled edge sole. Completed with deluxe details like an ultra-soft lambskin lining, brass nails in the heel and a brass vintage Allen Edmonds nameplate on the outsole, we believe it is self-evident that the Jefferson is the premium dress shoe for the man who is writing his own history.

ALLEN EDMONDS SHOE CARE

When caring for your calfskin, use Allen Edmonds Conditioner Cleaner to remove surface residue and to keep leather soft and pliable. To achieve a fine luster, wipe shoes with a damp cloth and allow them to air dry at room temperature. Then, apply a coat of Allen Edmonds Premium Shoe Polish with a cloth or horsehair dauber and allow to air dry.
